

CODE OF CONDUCT APPENDIX A

Anastasis Ballet Company dancers must:

- Have a current, active relationship with Jesus Christ.
- Have a heart for worship.
- Have a desire to serve the body of Christ and to minister and share the Gospel with the unsaved
- Have a submissive and teachable spirit toward Anastasis Ballet Company Directors and Leaders
- Have a commitment to and cooperation with other company members, striving to work together in unity and harmony and praying for one another
- Dress appropriately for rehearsals, to and from performances and while performing. Apparel must be modest and in proper taste.
- Commit to attend rehearsals regularly and in a timely manner.
- Not use class time to “chat” or “visit” with other company members – cell phones must be turned off during all rehearsal & programs.
- Follow the “proper process” (Matthew 18:15-17) towards reconciliation if you have an offense with the director or other company members.
- Attend all performances, unless approved by the director.
- Not gossip or speak poorly of the ministry, director or any other company member.
- Always uphold your character as you are an ambassador for Jesus Christ.
- Not engage in ungodly/unbiblical activities of any kind.
- Live in sexual purity and maintain Biblical boundaries within all relationships with the opposite sex.
- Make time in the Word and prayer a priority as well as attend a local church in order to feed myself spiritually.
- Pray for the ministry, its leaders and fellow dancers.
- Uphold the integrity of the ministry at all times.

I agree to uphold the above code of conduct. I understand that I am not expected to be perfect, but am expected to do what is right and pleasing to God. I understand that failing to comply with this Code of Conduct will result first, in a verbal warning; second, with a written warning informing me of unacceptable behavior; and third, with suspension from Anastasis Ballet Company.
